

WHAT I KNOW ABOUT LIFE SO FAR By Carolyn Sweers

A sample of the short sayings that make up the book.

14

We are before we know it.

23

Tucked away in the middle of nowhere there is something I can't quite see.
And I wouldn't bother except that I have a sense
it might matter to me.

51

When dawn comes,
it eases away the dark.
But night can happen
even when the lights are on.

69

If it makes sense,
It is probably because it is something we're used to.

85

Sometimes you have to leave to get where you want to be.
At other times,
to get there,
you simply have to stay.

105

There is a time to speak.
There is a time to be silent.
What time is it now?

129

If you don't quite know what to think about something,
the problem may not be you.
Sometimes it seems as if the universe is serving up an enigma or two so that we'll pay attention.

147

Living the good life.
First, you have to find out what it is.
Then you have to decide if it's really worth the trouble.

172

Why are "lesser" goods
so tempting?

206

To begin a journey,
one has to leave home.

250

The size of a self is as large as its world.
Imagine beyond where you are and grow to catch up.

286

Sometimes a door will open in what had seemed a wall.
